

FIVE WAYS TO BE A MILLIONAIRE

By Ray Gebauer

What if there was a way for you to be a Millionaire in five different ways?

What if you discovered that you were ALREADY a Millionaire in one or more of these ways?

If you are ALREADY a Millionaire in at least one way, don't you think it would make it easier to become wealthy in the other areas as well?

"Millionaire" is a term to describe wealth, most commonly, financial wealth.

However, there are FIVE ways to be a Millionaire—in other words, five ways to be rich and wealthy, four of which have nothing to do with money, and all of which are considered by the majority of people to be more important than financial wealth.

I am inviting you to expand your thinking, beyond just one way to be a Millionaire, to the possibility that you can be a Millionaire in five ways, and not have to settle for just one of the five.

Furthermore, being a financial Millionaire is the least satisfying way of all five, and it is perhaps the most difficult way to achieve (nevertheless, with the proper frame of mind and purpose, it is certainly a worthwhile endeavor).

There is a high probability that you are ALREADY a Millionaire in at least one way right now!

Once you realize that you are ALREADY a "Millionaire" (wealthy) in one area, you will have far more confidence and emotional momentum to create wealth so as to be a "Millionaire" in the other four areas as well. Are you interested? Are you ready?

Why not be a five star Millionaire?

1. Being a Millionaire in your Body

One of the five ways to be wealthy is in your health.

If your physical body wears out or succumbs to a disease, what good is financial wealth (other than paying for medical bills)?

It's been said that health is wealth—would you agree?

If you had to choose between being rich in your health or rich financially, which would you choose?

Fortunately, you can have both, realizing that the more important way to be rich is in your physical health. So are you doing everything you can to be wealthy in this critical aspect of life?

If not, why not?

If not now, when?

And if you are already bankrupt in your health, even with a so called terminal or incurable disease, there is hope—you will be learning of a way that can most likely give you a full recovery, regardless of what anyone has told you. Are you interested?

I used to have some serious health problems, including almost dying as a baby. Now, I live a healthy life style, which includes exercise and eating my Power food (my edible health insurance) every day. Now, I have vibrant health and energy, free of pain and disability and expect to live a full long happy healthy life past 120. Why not you?

If you already have great health, congratulations! You are already at least a “one star Millionaire”, which positions you to better achieve other ways to be rich and wealthy.

2. Being a Millionaire in your Heart

Some would say that being wealthy in your heart is even more important than being wealthy in your health. What do you think? I say, why settle for one if you can create both?

Being a “Millionaire in your heart” means to be fully alive by passionately living your life for a purpose that is meaningful to you.

Being a “Millionaire in your heart” means having a large generous heart that cares about others. It means loving others in such a way that I make a difference for others, influencing others for their greater good, giving and enriching their lives, being a person of service and contribution. It means being rich in wisdom, which comes from the heart.

If you had to choose between being rich in your heart or rich financially, which would you choose?

Fortunately, you can have both, realizing that the more important way to be rich is in your heart. So are you doing everything you can to be wealthy in this critical aspect of life?

If not, why not?

If not now, when?

And if you are bankrupt in terms of being wealthy in your heart, you must realize that this is not a permanent condition. You can choose to create wealth in your heart, starting now. And if you need help, coaching or direction, we can help you.

My heart used to be empty of love, and obsessed with myself and what I wanted. I used to be arrogant and self-righteous. But I've grown and matured to have a heart of love and compassion for others, living not just for myself, but to make a difference in the world—and you can too, if you are interested. I say that it is never too late—do you agree?

If you are already a Millionaire in your heart, congratulations! You are already at least a “one (or two) star Millionaire”, which positions you to better achieve other ways to be rich and wealthy.

3. Being a Millionaire in your Relationships

One of the most satisfying ways to be a Millionaire is to be wealthy in your relationships.

Being rich with family and true friends, experiencing acceptance and belonging is a deep desire of every person. Do you agree?

If you had to choose between being rich in your relationships or rich financially, which would you choose? Fortunately, you can have both, realizing that the more important way to be rich is in your relationships. So are you doing everything you can to be wealthy in this critical aspect of life?

If not, why not?

If not now, when?

And if you are bankrupt in terms of being wealthy in your relationships, you must realize that this is not a permanent condition. You can choose to create wealth in your relationships, starting now.

For many years the relational dimension of my life was an area of poverty. I didn't even know how to have friends. I used to foolishly think that I didn't need others; I had an air of self-sufficiency, which was a dangerous illusion based on arrogance, which was based in my insecurity. But I've grown and matured and now have many good relationships, including some very rich ones—and you can too. I say that it is never too late—do you agree?

If you are already a Millionaire in your relationships, congratulations! You are already at least a “one (or two or three) star Millionaire”, which positions you to better achieve the other ways to be rich and wealthy.

4. Being a Millionaire in your Spirit

Many people would say that being rich spiritually is the most important and satisfying way to wealthy—what do you think?

Spiritual richness and wealth is certainly a treasure unlike any other kind of treasure, particularly in light of the fact of the eternal implications.

Two thousand years ago a great prophet asked this important question: “What does it really profit a man if he gains the whole world but loses his soul?”

So just how does one gain spiritual riches? Although there are many different answers to this critical question, I propose the possibility that wealth in the spiritual domain is based on knowing and loving the Almighty God personally, who knows and loves you.

I say that a spiritual Millionaire is the happiest person in the world because he or she is connected to and is one with the Creator of the universe in a loving personal relationship.

If you had to choose between being rich in spiritually or rich financially, which would you choose?

Fortunately, you can have both, realizing that the more important way to be rich is in your spirit. So are you doing everything you can to be wealthy in this critical aspect of life?

If not, why not?

If not now, when?

And if you are bankrupt spiritually, you must realize that this is not a permanent condition. You can choose to access spiritual wealth, starting immediately.

The spiritual dimension of my life was for many years an area of poverty. Although I had a relationship with God as my Father, it was fairly shallow, because it consisted primarily of a pursuit of accumulating knowledge, which just reinforced my arrogance and self-righteousness. I was more interested in the Principles of God (legalism) than I was in the Person of God (knowing and loving Him).

But I've matured spiritually to the point that I consider myself to be rich spiritually, as I've learned to know, trust and love God as my Father—and you can too. It is never too late.

If you are already a Millionaire spiritually, congratulations! You are already at least a “one (or two, three or four) star Millionaire”, which positions you to better achieve the other ways to be rich and wealthy.

5. Being a Millionaire in your Finances

Most people would like to be a Millionaire financially—how about you?

The reality is that for the most part, most people focus on just surviving and making it through another day. Being wealthy financially appears to be an illusion or a fairy tale. Has that been true for you?

Some people even feel that it is dangerous to have a lot of money, because it could corrupt them—they could become snobbish, self-centered and lose all their friends. They don't want to become like “those rich people.”

Have you ever thought that?

The reality is that money does not change, corrupt or do anything to you—it simply magnifies and amplifies who you really are.

If you are already selfish and greedy, money will amplify this and you will become even more selfish and greedy. For this person, wealth would be a curse.

If you are already a giving and generous person, that will be what is amplified and you will be even more generous. For you, wealth will be a blessing to you and others. Don't you think this is true?

Here are two questions to ask yourself: is becoming a Millionaire financially something I should inspire to, and, is there a way that I could even do it if I wanted to?

I say YES to both questions.

The greatest benefit in being wealthy is not in having the money, as it would appear on the surface. The greatest benefit in becoming rich is who you will become in the process of creating financial wealth and being a Millionaire.

The only ethical way to become a financial Millionaire is to do something that helps a lot of people. The more difference you make, the more money you make. If you provide a valuable service that can help a lot of people, you will make a lot of money.

This principle is stated in the Bible—if you want to be great (in any way), serve a lot of people.

Value attracts money because money is a basic way to measure how valuable your service, product or contribution is. So as you become more valuable in serving people, you deserve and earn more money.

For example, the more valuable a piece of real estate is, the more money it will attract. As you become more valuable, you will attract more money—it is predictable and inevitable.

That's why it is more important to work harder on yourself than on your business—because for things to change, you have to change, including becoming more valuable to others.

So is there a feasible way for you to become a Millionaire financially?

I say YES, because I have done it, and many of my friends have done it in the same way. All you need is three things.

First you need a reliable and proven VEHICLE that can get you there, which I can give you for free (in the next few days, it will become clear exactly what this vehicle is).

Secondly, you need to have a MAP. You need to know which pathway (or freeway) to take to get you there—in other words, knowing exactly HOW you are going to do this. We will also provide this at no cost—but of course it will do you absolutely NO GOOD unless you are teachable and willing to follow this “treasure map.”

Third, you need to put “GAS” in your vehicle. In this analogy, the gas is your energy, which consists of your time, commitment and actual work that gives you the results you want.

Is it not true that without gas, even the best car in the world will not work? Isn't this true even if you have a clear map?

If you had to choose to be a Millionaire in only one of these five ways, I expect and hope that being wealthy financially would not be your first priority. However, I say that you can and should choose to create wealth in all five ways, and be a FIVE STAR Millionaire.

Are you ready to learn about how to become a Millionaire in this fifth way?

If not, why not?

If not now, when?

If you are in any stage of poverty or in just survival, you must realize that this is not a permanent condition. You can choose to create wealth, starting now.

For most of my life, I was vacillated between just surviving and poverty. In 1994, I discovered the vehicle that took me to Millionaire status. At that time, I had no job, I'd just gone through my second divorce, had lost my house, and was living in a friend's unfinished basement. On top of that, I owed over $50,000 and had my car repossessed.

In less than four years, I was a Millionaire financially. I live in a lake front million dollar home, and instead of just chasing the dream, I am living it.

And you can too, with our help and support, IF you are willing to follow the “treasure map” that I am willing to share with you.

Actually, I do not feel rich or consider myself to be rich, because the reality is that wealth is only entrusted to me—God is the real owner, and it is all His. For right now, He is trusting me with His wealth as a manager; but if I am not grateful or if I am unfaithful, I can be fired!

So WHY am I interested in helping you?

Because my mission in life is to empower people to live life fully, free of fear and full of faith. Living life fully includes being a five star Millionaire.

My mission is to make a meaningful difference for ten million people—that is why I am inviting you to participate with me, because I need you and others to join me in making a difference in the world, partly to fulfill my own personal mission.

So why should you put energy into being a Millionaire in any or all of the five ways to be wealthy? You need to answer that question yourself, and even write it down so you do not forget.

I say you can be a five star Millionaire—why not?

Why not be all you can be?

How tall will a tree grow? Does it get up to 10 feet and say, “that is high enough?” Doesn’t it grow as tall as it can? How many nuts will a squirrel gather? Doesn’t it get as many as it can. How fast will a free stallion run? As fast as it can.

So why not you?

Why not be all you can? I suspect that you are already a Millionaire in at least one way. Why not be a five star Millionaire, and make a five star difference in the world?

Like the five star players on a championship basket ball team, being a five star Millionaire will maximize your impact in the world and give you the greatest happiness.

In the process of becoming rich in these five aspects, you will ENRICH the lives of thousands of people.

I believe in you—do you?

Why not now?

Why wait? If you wait until all the lights are green before you leave your home, you will never leave, and obviously, you will never get to your destination!

I say that NOW it is your turn and now is your time.

The very same vehicle that got me there, can get YOU there—and you can use the same map. With this vehicle, you can even make up for lost time and for everything else that you tired that did not work for you.

Ten years ago, I asked myself three critical questions:

1. Is this something I would LOVE doing? Is this something I can be passionate about, and feel like I am making a significant difference for people?

My heart said “YES!” Within 6 months, my experience confirmed it, and now ten years later, I love what I am doing more than ever.

Will you love this? I don’t know, but what if you do?

If you really enjoy making a meaningful difference for people, I predict that you will love this as much as I do!

2. Is this vehicle too good to be true, or is it too good to miss?

After checking this vehicle out, it became crystal clear to me that rather than this being too good to be true, it was definitely too good to miss. I expect that you will come to the same inescapable conclusion too!

3. CAN I DO THIS?

This was my biggest concern, because I realized that it really does not matter how great any opportunity is if I can not make it work for me. I had tried over 40 other vehicles that got me no where, except into a deeper hole and into more disappointment and disillusionment! I certainly did not need another disappointment or “failure.”

But this time it was different. This time, I had the support and training I needed to make it happen. I realized that even if I did not have what it took, with the support and training from those who had already done it, I could also do it.

So I humbled myself, put aside my arrogance, and chose to be teachable. I allowed myself to learn and receive from those who were willing to coach and mentor me to get me where I wanted to go.

I am willing to do the same thing for you.

I will offer you this gift of mentoring if you are willing to accept it. If you want to try it your way first, just remember the warning in the ancient saying, that “pride cometh before a fall.”

So can you do this?

I don't know, but what if you can? I believe you can, IF you are willing to accept our training and mentoring. Thousands of others have—why not you?

After careful consideration, I answered “YES” to all three of these questions.

So I accepted the free vehicle, the free map, put some gas in it and took off into what ended up being an adventure and a treasure hunt—and I found the treasure!

I say that you can find the treasure too, and become a Five Star Millionaire, like I did.

I invite you to join us on our mission to make a difference, and be a five star Millionaire!
